Read and digest what some of our investors say.

From R. P. Z. Jones, Single Blanket, Arizona:
Gentlemen:

I took the piece of ore you sent me to the local drug store and after thorough examination they were unable to find a trace of quartz in it. It was all virgin gold. And you say this is from the grass roots. God bless you for letting me in on the ground floor. Hope and pray to do the same for you some day.

From Montmorency Sap Head, Olena, N. Y.
Gentlemen:

I showed an expert stone-cutter the sample of ore you sent me; he says it would assay $200,000.00. I have just inherited $30,000.00, and you can put me down for as many shares as this will buy.

Prof. Dry Friction's Report:
Gentlemen:

I have made a careful examination of your property situated on the Blister River, 18 miles from Stump Water, in the heart of Great Skunk mountain.

I find float and other surface indications, showing ore that will run twenty thousand dollars to the ton. An intelligent approximate of this would be about three million tons in sight. At a distance of 43 feet to the north is a second ledge carrying most promising features of automobile tires, that will assay about 91 per cent pure rubber.

At a distance of 317½ feet due south, I came upon a vein of twenty dollar bills, which is an extremely valuable deposit. It is just possible, however, that this may be only a pocket, though the lead is filled with five and ten dollar bills for an indefinite distance into the mountain.

The veins are true fissure, and the walls are many feet in thickness. I would certainly advise any prospective purchaser of mining stock to grasp this wonderful opportunity, at once.

A. DRY FRICTION,
F. R. C. V. S., A. M. and M. D.

Greene Gold-Silver Co.

The reports from Ocampo are to the effect that the Greene Gold-Silver Co.'s 100-ton mill known as the El Salto mill is running in good shape on good grade gold ore from the Matulera mine. As the plant has been running only a short time the regular output is not known here yet. The work of putting in a cyanide plant to treat the tailings is going on.

The 60 stamp mill at Concho is running regularly. This, with the El Salto mill gives the company two plants turning out gold and silver right along.—Chihuahua Enterprise.

Nogales-Cananea Branch.

Col. Eges Randolph, who has been in Phoenix for several days, gave out an interview on the subject of railroad conditions.

The most important feature which he discussed resulted in his making the announcement that, within the next few months the line between Cananea and Nogales will be connected up. This line is considered relatively one of the most important which are under construction or projected by the Randolph system, and is the first link in the work of getting a thorough line from central Arizona to a junction with the Sonora railway and the Cananea, Yaqui & Pacific.

Cattle Sale.

Tom Wills, of Florence and R. G. Brady of Tucson closed a deal this week for the sale to Mr. Caviness of 1200 head of one, two and three-year old steers, says the Star, the bunch to be delivered at Phoenix about April 15. Caviness represents the Hurleys of Phoenix.

The price to be paid is $14, $17 and $20 per head. This bunch of steers will be gathered on the San Pedro, where the stock, Mr. Wills says yesterday, is in fine condition. Out of the San Pedro lowlands the stock will be driven to Winkelman, where they will be loaded on cars of the Phoenix & Eastern railway.

Messrs. Caviness and Brady were over on the ranges, north side of Catalinas, Saturday, to size up the stock. Mr. Wills could not go on the trip, his foot being crippled.

Handling 400 Tons Daily.

"The Saco smelter at the present time is handling 400 tons of ore per day and preparations are already under way for putting in another jacket which will about double the capacity of the plant."

This was the statement made by Hon. A. S. Donau, who has just returned from an automobile trip to the town of Saco, which is located about forty miles from Tucson.

"The town was quite a revelation. It has at the present time a population of about 500 and this promises to increase steadily. We visited the smelting plant and were agreeably surprised to find that the plant is handling 400 tons of ore daily. They are enabled to do this as the Imperial ores are easily smelted"—Tucson Citizen.

J. K. McCarthy and John Bodder, who located sixteen gold claims 18 miles northwest of Florence a few months ago, have sold the group to Pittsburg capitalists, headed by a gentleman named Toles Messrs. McCarthy & Bodder retained an interest in the property and Mr. Bodder will probably be superintendent of the mines. The company will be a close corporation and no stock will be placed on the market. The selling price of the group was $30,000.—Florence Blade.

The Pacific Creamery company will install a fruit and vegetable canning department at its plant at this place. This should encourage the raising of small fruits and vegetables in this section. It has been demonstrated that tomatoes can be raised here at big profit and with a canning factory to handle the surplus product the industry will soon become a very important one. The small farm idea is gaining a foothold in this valley and it means increased prosperity for everybody.—Tempe News.

The "Dry" Law.

With Associate Justice Sloan, Doan, Nave and Campbell concurring, the supreme court of Arizona handed down a decision affirming the action of Chief Justice Kent in refusing to grant an injunction to restrain the Maricopa board of supervisors from calling a prohibition election.

The Phoenix Democrat says that "in plain words, this means that Maricopa's supervisors must act at once on a petition, signed by 505 citizens, asking that the board call an election to decide whether or not liquor shall be sold in Maricopa county."

"Interest in the outcome has not been confined to Maricopa county, the liquor dealers and prohibitionists in all parts of Arizona taking a decided interest in what the supreme court would do. The Democrat adds: "It is probable that the board of supervisors at its regular monthly meeting in April will order the call issued for the election to decide the question in Maricopa county."

War on Mosquitoes.

Mayor Dines is about to organize a systematic crusade for the extermination of mosquitoes at this place, and in this laudable work he will be backed by the town council, and it is hoped by every household in town. A large quantity of crude petroleum will be procured, and this will be applied to all cesspools, closets, sinks and every other place where pests are liable to breed. If the doctor is successful in this work, and from what has been accomplished there is every reason to believe that he will be, our people will owe him an everlasting debt of gratitude.—Tempe News.
